Mastering Technical Analysis - One Day Course

This course is designed to teach all aspects of technical analysis to traders and investors so they can properly capture price movement. The course is packed full of information and focuses on what traders and investors really need; not a lot of filler. The concepts are taught in precise terms at a level of understanding you likely have not experienced if you have been researching technical analysis on your own. For example; if you were asked the definition of 'support' the vast majority of people would have a similar answer. And most would agree that 'support' doesn't always work; it frequently fails. But do you know the four key aspects that must be evaluated to understand if 'support' is truly a buyable area or just a mirage that will give way as if it wasn't even there? Once you know the details of support, and of all technical concepts, you will see that they do work incredibly well. You need to know what to look for.

This course covers a wide range of topics (see table of contents link below). Many traders and investors can be profitable after just this class. Everyone is different. Investors (longer term) are more likely to be profitable quickly as emotions are reduced. Coupling this course with the 'Mastering Advanced Tactics' course gives a trader or investor all of the tools needed, all that exist in fact, to make money in the market.
