Seminar Manual Policy

Students will be provided redacted manual that will serve a very useful purpose of being a usable worksheet. This will give students a great framework and will encourage them to take notes along the way. This is a better learning tool than having the full manual in front of them. All charts will be there as well as the outline, but many key pieces of information will be blanked out, leaving room to be filled in. This can be done right on the computer in PDF form. In class students will see the complete manual on my screen.

The manual will usually not be sent until the night before class as there are constant updates to the manuals.
